HARRISBURG, June 26.—(INS)—The Department of Highways today announced revocation of 69 automobile drivers' licenses and the addition of 35 names to the prohibitory list. Forty-four of the revocations and 18 of the blacklists were caused by intoxication.

The revocations for intoxication included Mitchell Sawyer, Erie; Martin A. Snyder, Allentown; Thomas Brosie, Sharon; James R. Layton, Indiana; and Halleck Hasson, New Castle.

The license of Joseph Deutsch, Scranton, was revoked for assault and battery.

Those who were added to the prohibitory list for a period of one year because of larceny were Clarence Culbertson, Erie; Thomas Brown, Scranton; and Anthony Senger, Erie.

Blacklistings for intoxication included Edward Wrotman, Sharon; Sylvester L. Rohrer, Lebanon; W. C. Smith, Huntingdon; and William Nichols, Norristown.

MOUNT MORRIS, Pa., June 26.—(INS)—Greene County residents were today speculating over the veracity of the tale of seven persons of this town that a live toad was found in a solid block of concrete that was poured more than two years ago.

Recently a concrete block 16 inches thick was taken from the ground at a gasoline station here and when broken open a toad hopped out. Such is the story of the garage owners, two other Mount Morris residents and three employees of the Standard Oil Company. And they stick to it. So there you are.

They said that the concrete was mixed in May, 1926, and apparently the toad had fallen into the soft cement when the block was poured.

The witnesses also declared that the toad was blind when it hopped from the block, but about an hour later it was apparently normal and hopped about in the usual manner of toads, despite its alleged 25 months captivity in the solid cement.

PREDICTS THAT WOMEN WILL GIVE HOOVER AND CURTIS GREATEST MAJORITY EVER GIVEN ANY CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE

Mrs. Barclay Warburton, President of Council of Republican Women, Sends Congratulations to Republican Candidate for President — Women of the State Are Invited to Join the Council.

PHILADELPHIA, June 26.—That women will elect Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis by the greatest majority ever given any candidates for the presidency and the vice-presidency is the belief of Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton, president of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, who, from the State headquarters at 2024 Sansom street, is directing activities for the pre-election work of the Council.

In a message to Mr. Hoover, Mrs. Warburton sent "sincere and earnest congratulations from the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women and pledges of their undivided support for the ticket."

"Your candidacy is an inspiration to the women of the country and an inspiration to those of us in Pennsylvania for added effort on behalf of the constructive measures you have consistently advocated," Mrs. Warburton wrote. "This Council is the only State-wide organization of Republican Women in Pennsylvania, comprising 175 groups in 53 counties, and will co-operate in every possible way for your success."

Mr. Curtis was assured by Mrs. Warburton of the extraordinary interest evinced in his candidacy by the women of the State.

Represented at the convention in Kansas City by scores of women, twenty-three of whom attended in an official capacity, the members of the Council are now informing their respective communities of the many important features of the campaign of 1928.

Primarily Mrs. Warburton is concerned with an effort to increase the membership of the Council to one hundred thousand members by Nov. 1.

"Women of the State are asked to join the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women in such numbers as to refute the critics of suffrage who insist that negligence and casualness will always be characteristic of the woman voter," Mrs. Warburton said.

"We are entering a new political era in which the conservative sense of women will have a powerful effect, including the election of this year. Women's votes will go in a great majority to the Hoover-Curtis ticket because of the conservative and constructive views of the presidential candidate, and his well-known ability and determination to safeguard all the factors on which the well-being and prosperity of the country depend. Women are interested in prosperity because it affects their families and the future of their children."

"Self-protective intelligence will inspire women to study the issues of the present campaign and to do their duty. Instinctively the people of our country recognize the soundness of Republican policies in the matters of business, industry and social life. These traditional principles are responsible for the present state of affairs."

CASEYS LOSE CONTEST TO ST. ANN'S BASEBALL NINE

"Saints" Win Seventh Straight Game and Tie League Leaders

FINAL SCORE IS 13 TO 4

(By T. M. Juno)

St. Ann's won their seventh straight conquest last night by sinking the Casey nine to the tune of a 13 to 4 score. The winners are now in a tie with Field Club for the league crown. Each team has won seven and lost one. The game bore injuries to several players and a spectator. During batting practice, Fields, of St. Ann's, was spiked by a team-mate. In the first inning Fields and McDevitt were struck by fast balls, but both remained in the game. Connors was spiked by Seneca in the second. Seneca was crossing the plate at the time. A spectator seated along the left field benches was struck by a foul "Texas Leaguer."

De Risi pitched his second straight game and had easy goings with the lead his siders gave him.

McCarthy and Rodgers shared the firing burden for the Caseys and both would have had an easy time had it not been for the many errors and wobbly support given to them.

Connors opened the game by lifting to Seneca. Coyle received a ticket to first. Barrett bunted to De Risi and was put out, Coyle advancing. D. McDevitt was hit by a pitched ball. Roe to O'Riola retired the side on Rodger's roller.

Six was the number the score-keeper chalked up for St. Ann's in their initial bat. Fields walked. O'Riola sacrificed and all hands were safe when McCarthy fumbled. Stallone filled the bases by drawing a walk. Roe singled, scoring Fields and O'Riola. Missera got safe on an error by Leighton. Stallone crossed the platter. Seneca got a two-bagger to center, scoring Roe and Missera. Pico got to first on David's error, scoring Seneca. Tulio fanned. De Risi fled to second base. Fields up for the second time was hit by a pitched ball. O'Riola in his second try fled to David.

The Caseys scored three in their second. McCarthy walked, David fled to De Risi. Fields was under Leighton's hit. E. McDevitt doubled, McCarthy making rapid strides to the plate. Connors was passed. Coyle came through with a double, scoring E. McDevitt and Connors. Barrett got to first on Tulio's fumble of his grounder. D. McDevitt struck out.

The Dorrance street boys put the game on ice by adding five to their first total. Stallone received first on David's mis-slip. Leighton failed to handle Roe's grounder properly and both runners were safe. Missera beat out his hit to David, loading the cushions. Stallone scored on a passed ball. Seneca drew a pass, again loading the sacks. Pico also received a complimentary ticket and Roe was forced in with a run. Missera scored on a passed ball. Tulio hit to D. McDevitt and Seneca drew a pass, again loading the line to Leighton. Fields hit to Rodgers, who had relieved McCarthy, and went out.

The Caseys failed to do anything in the third. Rodgers bunted to Roe and went out. McCarthy walked. David singled between short and third. Leighton lifted to Missera. Tulio and Seneca collided in trying for E. McDevitt's fly, and Seneca dropped the ball. McCarthy wandered too far off third, so Tulio retrieved the ball to Roe, getting him.

Two more made victory more certain for the "Saints." O'Riola singled. Stallone also singled, O'Riola going to third. Roe fled to Coyle. O'Riola scored on a mis-play. Missera walked. Rodgers tried to get Missera going to second and threw to center field, scoring Stallone. Missera went out at the plate. Seneca hit to David and went out.

De Risi made quick work of the Caseys in their fourth. Connors struck out. Coyle hit to Seneca and went out at first. Fields caught Barrett's fly.

St. Ann's went out easy in the fifth. Pico fled to Leighton. Tulio got safe

MEDALS FOR PUBLIC SERVANTS

There is before the government in Washington a plan to establish an award similar to the congressional medal of honor and distinguished service cross, to be presented to federal employees who through courageous or self-sacrificing service have signally benefited mankind.

In the government service there are many entitled to public recognition and gratitude. Scientists in the service have invented processes and devices by which the government saves millions of dollars yearly. There are research workers whose experimentation has led to the development of entirely new industries. There are members of the public health service whose activity has resulted in eradication of dread diseases. There are, in short, many whose services have been valuable beyond calculation in money.

Recognition of distinguished service for the government would be not only a mark of grateful appreciation, but would inspire other public servants to do great work.

Government experts whose research has resulted in important discoveries do not fare as well as those engaged in similar activity privately or in industry. The latter receive greater financial reward. The government worker turns over his inventions and discoveries to the public, and devotes his life to his task on a meager and inadequate salary.

Better than a medal would be an award carrying with it an annuity. Practical expression of appreciation gets the best results. Doubtless there are too many federal jobholders and some who do not earn their salaries, small as they are, but that should not deny the valuable employee his deserved reward and recognition.

HIDING ITS SPOTS

Nobody will be fooled by the generally excellent personnel of the Tammany Hall delegation bound for the Houston convention. Not even the uninitiated have been deceived into thinking Tammany Hall is a Sunday-school organization or has suddenly "got religion."

There is no doubt that special pains have been taken this year to produce a good impression on the public mind and upon the Democratic delegates from the "Solid South" and McAdoo's West. The Tammany delegation is hand-picked by the master hand, and with more than usual care, and with a view to answering the prejudices and criticisms of the enemies of Tammany. The prominent and distinguished men who have permitted themselves to be enrolled under the Tammany banner are intended as an answer to the allegation that no good thing can come out of Tammany Hall, and that it is necessarily and inherently the center of political corruption and evil.

It is not a new thing for Tammany to give respectability and dignity to its delegations to national conventions by the selection of men of social and professional standing. The Baltimore convention of 1912 was an instance where impeccable delegates represented Tammany but failed to save it from a devastating hurricane of denunciation by William Jennings Bryan, who was not deceived by the spotless front.

Paradox: A form of contradiction. Like an alimony payer celebrating Independence Day.

Strange how many corrosive things an angry woman can say without using profanity.

Terry searches frantically for his loved one.

Picking his way carefully across the threshold he stumbled over a body that lay just inside the doorway. He paused and looked down. "Dolores!—Thank God I have found you!" His cry of joy quickly changed to grief as he knelt by the silent figure of his loved one. "Dolores! Speak to me, dear. It is Terry." He bent over and kissed her tenderly. She stirred uneasily. The movement, slight as it was, galvanized Terry into instant action and lifting her gently in his arms, he carried her out of the vault toward that ray of sunshine that still flickered through from the upper-world.

Fearful that he would be unable to get her out of the jungle of

"Have you ever been sorry that the Vasquez name is no more?"

fallen debris, Terry called loudly for help. His shout was answered almost immediately by the soldiers who were advancing toward him. With his precious burden held tightly in his arms he staggered forward to meet them. He had found Dolores and she was alive! Nothing else mattered, not even the hazards of reaching the upper world.

CHAPTER XXII

Today.

The ashes of disaster have blown away. The Barbary Coast, Old Chinatown and that mile of hell, the Cocktail Route, are no more. A new and glorious city arose, as if by magic, from the still smoking ruins—a city of homes and of prosperity—the bustling, thriving San Francisco of today.

Seven months after the city had ceased to smoulder, almost to the very day, the worthy citizens of San Francisco literally girded their loins to purge the city in dead earnest. They had long been familiar with the craft that was rampant in municipal politics and the city's administration had been the subject of much public denunciation.

On the fifteenth day of November, 1906, the District Attorney's office held the Mayor of San Francisco and one of his political bosses under indictment for extortion. The same day President Roosevelt and the Federal Government announced to the press that they would immediately prosecute certain San Francisco officials for appropriating relief funds. San Francisco's house cleaning had begun in earnest.

The little town of Searchlight, Nevada had contributed the sum of $1085.00 for the relief of the destitute sufferers in the stricken city. This amount in cash had been turned over to Wells Fargo express for delivery. The package was addressed to the Mayor of San Francisco in person with the request that it be delivered to the relief committee. The express company secured the Mayor's signed receipt for the money. But for some strange reason the Relief Committee never received a penny of it. "Ghoully Grant" the papers dubbed it.

Schedule for Tonight
A. O. H. versus Independents
There will be a meeting of the Bristol Twilight League in the A. O. H. Hall tonight at 8:45 o'clock.

HULMEVILLE IN LEAD
IN TRI-COUNTY LEAGUE

A business meeting of the Tri-County Twilight Baseball League was held in the South Langhorne fire station last evening, with President C. Heppie, in the chair.

With the exception of Byberry all clubs in the league were represented, the final list of players for each team being presented. No new players will be allowed after the second half commences.

Owing to the rainy weather of the past two weeks the schedule has been badly disarranged, some of the clubs having as many as five postponed games. It has been decided that each team shall make up said games as soon as possible. The date scheduled for the last game of the first half, according to the original schedule, was June 21st. The next business session will take place at Southampton, Monday, July 30th.
